Ms. Anna Zhan
Beijing Association of New York
Flushing, New York

Dear President Anna Zhan:

It is a great honor to wish The Beijing Association of New York my most heartfelt congratulations as you celebrate your Anniversary, the New Year and your outstanding services to the community. Since your formation in 2005 the Association has provided numerous programs and services including cultural and educational services.

In addition to the cultural programs, The Beijing Association of New York has speakers addressing contemporary issues in the area of promoting US-China cultural, financial and educational exchanges within New York's Chinese community.

I am well aware of the numerous programs and services including many sponsored programs and events. The Associations attention to detail, caring attitude towards its membership is the reason that through the years you continue to thrive and prosper.

The foundation and strength of your outstanding organization is found within your membership. Through the years you have been blessed with many dedicated members who have volunteered their time, talents and energies to keep the Center strong, vibrant and an integral part of our community. The efforts of all those dedicated loyal members helps continued the legacy handed down by its founders. The Associations continued success is dependent upon the active participation and dedication of its members, old and new.

As you celebrate the New Year, I want to say thank you for your years of service and we look forward to continued greatness from the Beijing Association of New York. I would like to close by thanking you because each and everyday you makes a difference.

Sincerely,
